Missouri Weekly Hay Summary

Several farmers have been taking hay inventory the last several weeks and the findings have come as quite a surprise. This results in having to make a correction to previous thoughts as there seems to be much more high quality hay left in the barns than most had thought was even baled last season. It should also be noted even with the finding of this type of hay most buyers seem to be unwilling to pay asking prices when other types of hay is so cheap. Hay prices are reported as steady to weak, Demand is light. Supply is moderate to heavy.
