Missouri Weekly Hay Summary

With the official arrival of spring and a few days of above average temperatures, many farmers have been busy preparing equipment for tillage and planting, getting fertilizer spread, ordering twine or else just taking care of other pre-season tasks. Hay feeding is winding down especially in the southern half of the state. Grass has greened up and just enough has sprung up that cattle are tending to prefer to chase grass rather than eat what hay is put out. A good amount of producers will enter the new growing season with a fair amount of old crop hay. Although both slightly dry and wet conditions can be found in areas of the state generally speaking MO is currently in good shape. Although states such as TX, OK and KS seeing moderate to extremely dry conditions which is very worrisome this early in the growing season. Demand for hay is light, supply is moderate to heavy and prices steady to weak. The Missouri Department of Agriculture has a hay hotline available for both buyers and sellers. To be listed, or for a directory, call 1-800-877-4HAY (4429) or visit <http://www.mda.mo.gov/pdf/MOHayDirectory.pdf>.
