Missouri Weekly Hay Summary Week ending 02/07/2014

With another heavy snow blanketing the state, feeding is once again the primary task for livestock producers. Hay is being fed liberally and with little concern about running out. Winter weather is far from played out, whether old wives' tales, groundhogs or just the local weatherman, most indications are that Missouri still has cold conditions in all regions for the foreseeable future. While snow is a barrier to productivity at times, those regions which closed out 2013 short on subsoil moisture would gladly take a few more winter storms to help with readying the ground for spring. Hay supply is heavy, demand is light and the prices are steady. The Missouri Department of Agriculture has a hay directory available for both buyers and sellers. To be listed, or for a directory visit <http://mda.mo.gov/abd/haydirectory/> or for current listings of hay <http://agebb.missouri.edu/haylst/> (All prices f.o.b. and per ton unless specified and on most recent reported sales prices listed as round bales based generally on 5x6 bales with weights of approximately 1200-1500 lbs).
