MISSOURI WEEKLY HAY SUMMARY 8/06/2026

Hay harvest has been moving along as producers have had to play catch up most of the season following a late start due to weather delays. Overall progress is back on track and some producers starting to put equipment away now. Pastures across the state are currently rated as some of the best in the nation for the week ending Aug 2nd, 80 percent of the state was rated good to excellent, 17 percent fair, and 3 percent poor. A big jump in highlighted areas of the state showing on the drought monitor this week. Much of the north has received recent rains that may not be reflected yet. There are areas in the southern part of the state that have sure missed out lately though. Lots of hay showing up for sale and supplies are moderate to heavy. Hay prices are steady on grass types of hay and firm to higher on the upper end of Alfalfa. Hay demand is light.
